

Bitterroot Front Landscape Project
Trapper-Bunkhouse Study Area

birth month /birth day/last digit of birth year
Unique Identifier:___/___/___

Instructions:

- 1) Put your unique identifier on upper right corner of the map and on the extra piece of paper supplied for written response.
Your unique identifier is your birth month, birth day, and the last digit of your birth year.
For example: October 12, 2006 will be 10/12/6.
- 2) Circle places on the map that are important to you.
- 3) Number each circle or shape you've drawn.
- 4) On the back of this sheet and/or seperate piece of paper provided write down the number of the circle and with as great detail as possible describe why the place is important to you.

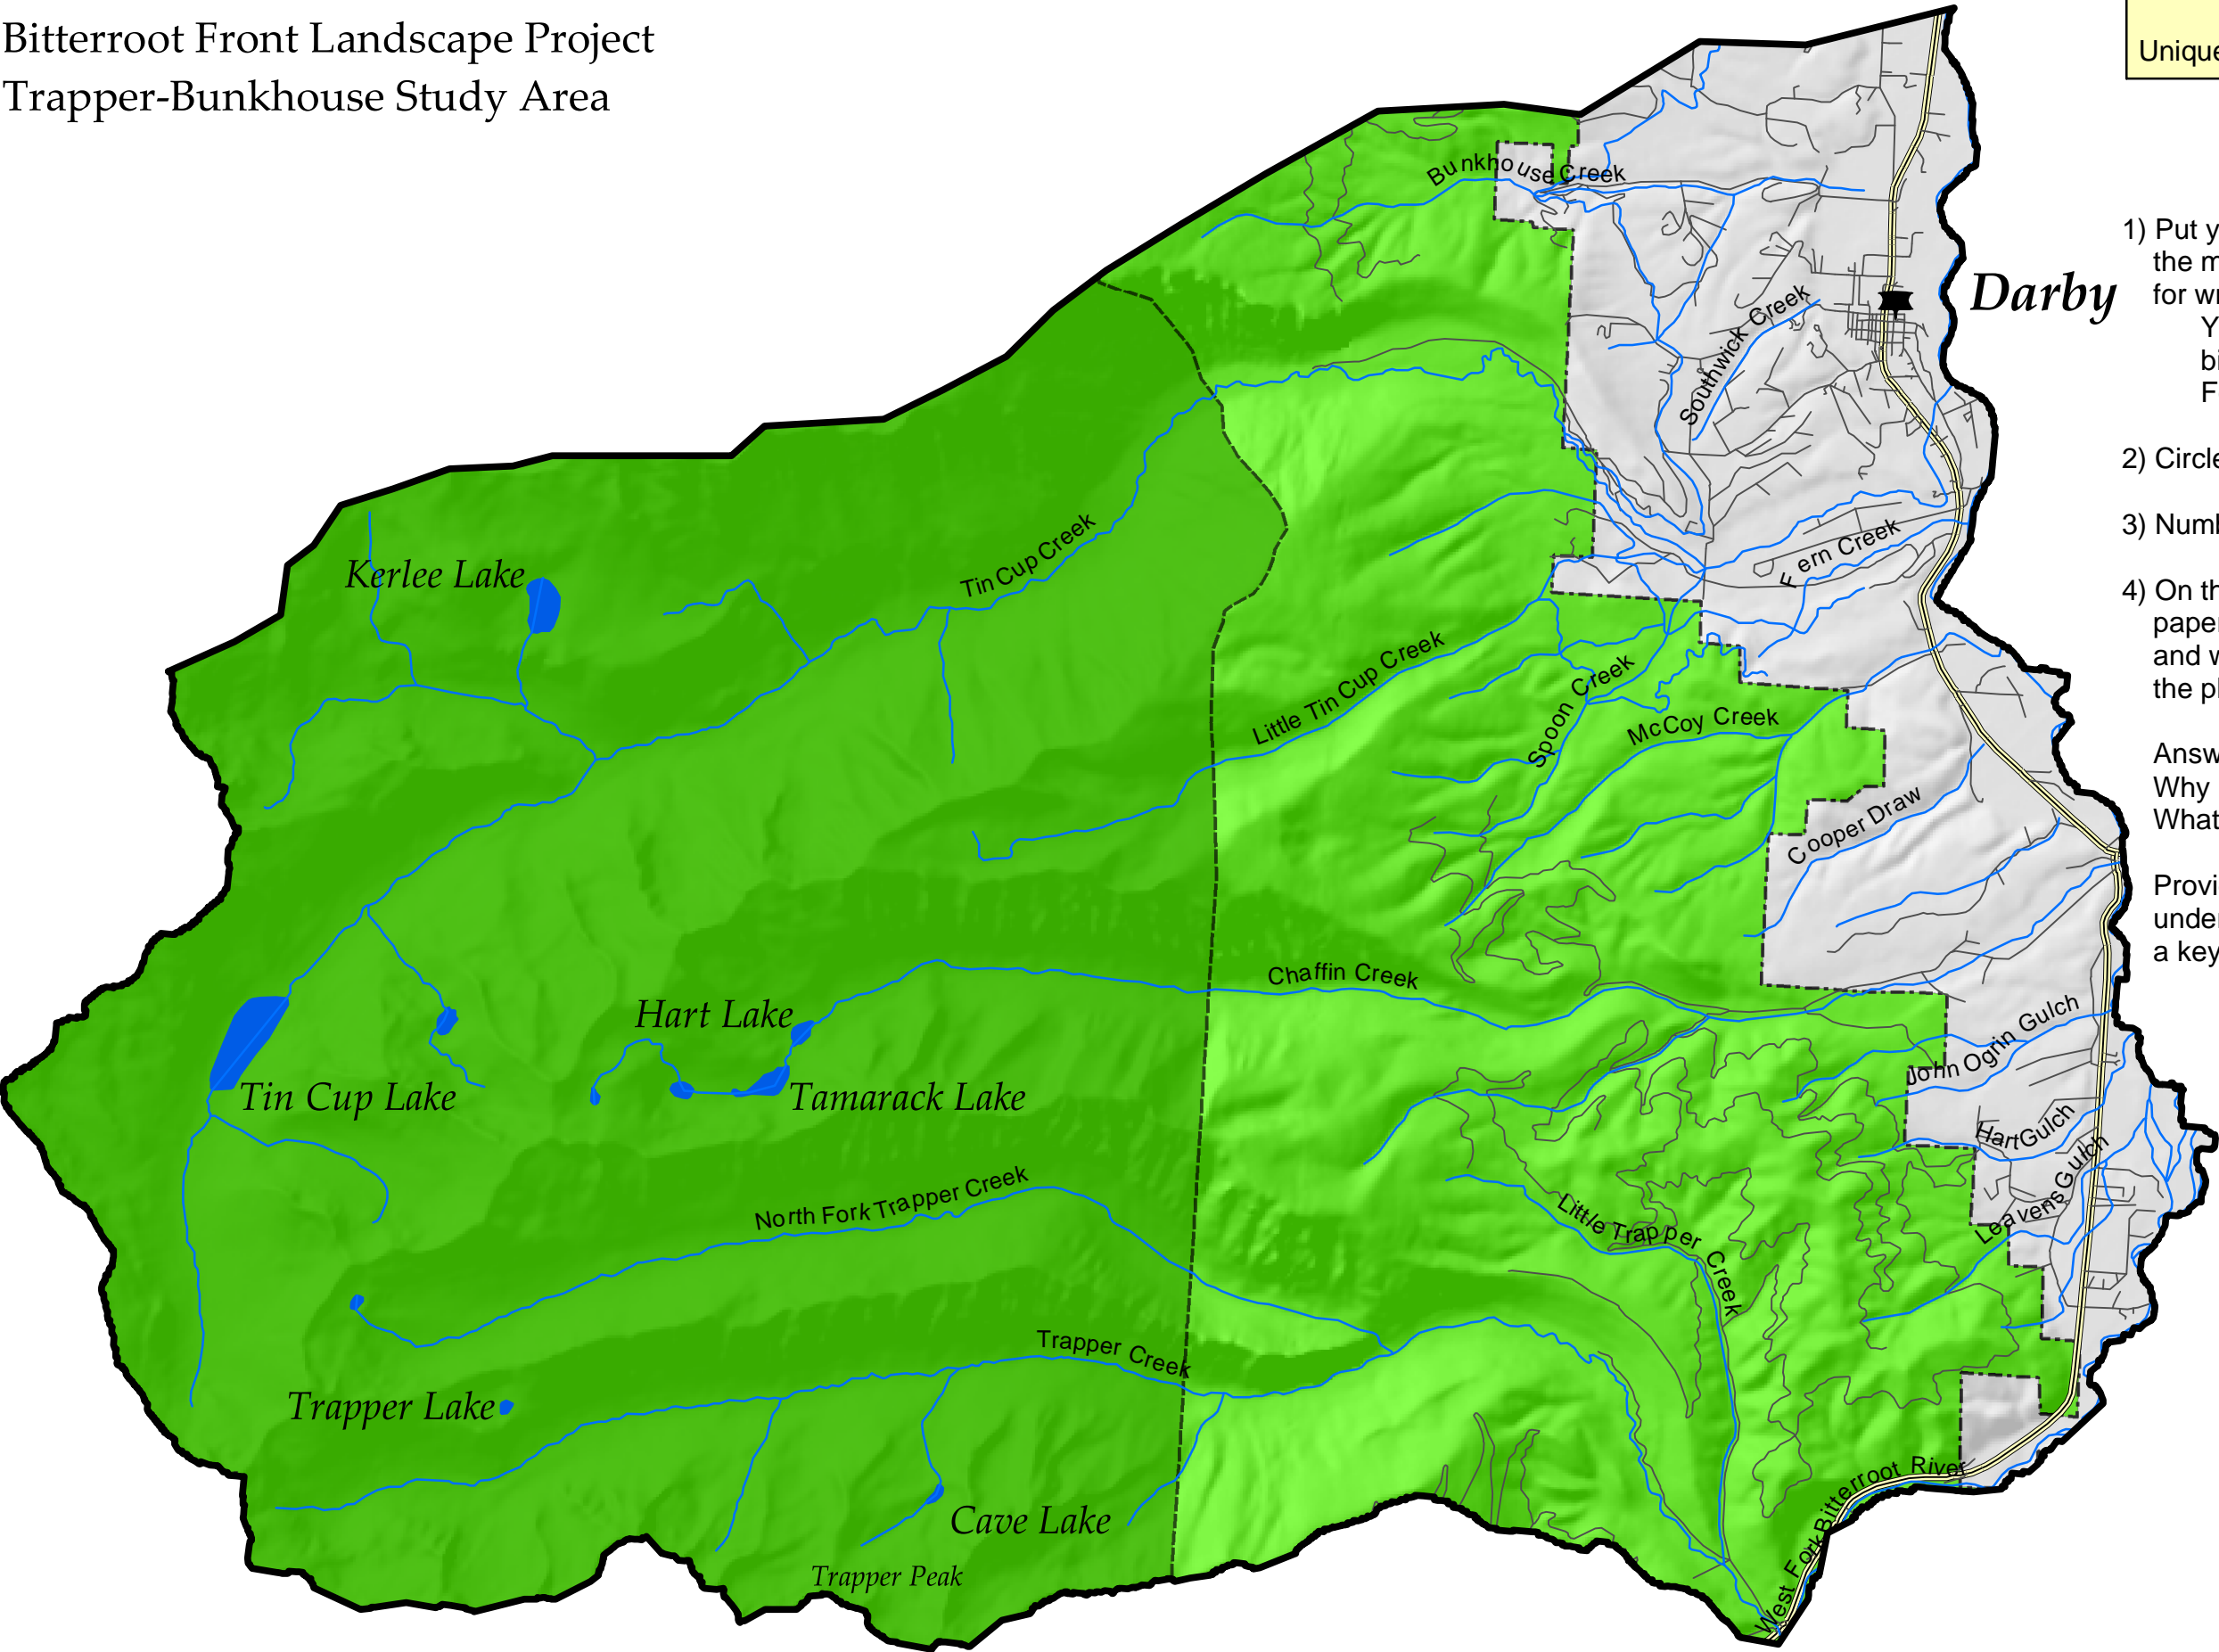

Answer the following questions for each circle/place:
Why is this place important to you?
What are the reasons you care about this place?

Providing a detailed description will help us to understand your connections to this landscape, a key component of effective land management.

Please place the map and your written responses in the provided self-addressed stamped envelope and drop it in the mail.

A timely response is necessary.

Thank you for your time and cooperation in this study!

Legend

- Bitterroot National Forest
- Selway-Bitterroot Wilderness
- Study Area Boundary
- Lakes
- Towns
- Highway 93
- Roads
- Streams

1:72,000

0 0.5 1 2 Miles